FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Leadership Directories announces campus-wide pricing for The Leadership Library® on the Internet New price structure provides affordable IP access for students and faculty

New York, NY (Leadership Directories, Inc.) May 17, 2007 – Leadership Directories is pleased to announce a new campus-wide pricing structure for its flagship product, The Leadership Library® on the Internet.

The new pricing structure, effective immediately, opens the door for colleges and universities across the country to dramatically expand student and faculty access to The Leadership Library® on the Internet. This powerful online database contains biographical and contact data for over 400,000 individuals at 40,000 leading U.S. government, business, professional, and nonprofit organizations.

“In response to what our academic customers have been telling us, we are pleased to introduce IP access to The Leadership Library® for students and faculty,” said David J. Hurvitz, CEO of Leadership Directories, Inc. “Using a Full Time Equivalent model, based on potential rather than simultaneous users, this is our first foray into the campus-wide pricing model. So far, the response from our customers has been incredibly positive.”

Many university and college libraries already provide The Leadership Library® on the Internet as a research, reference, and networking resource. Individual users can browse, search, and export telephone numbers, fax numbers, addresses, biographical information, and e-mails. Updated daily, all listings are verified with each organization listed.
