

News Release

Leadership Directories Announces Partner Program

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Program Will Expand Distribution of Leadership Directories Content

NEW YORK, NY, June 6, 2005 - Leadership Directories today announced the launch of a business partnership program. Through this program, Leadership Directories will join forces with innovative technology and content providers to deliver sophisticated solutions to specific customer segments.

"Leadership Directories' objective is to deliver mission-critical solutions that will help our customers achieve their goals. Through strategic partnerships, we will be able to leverage the domain expertise of our partners along with our content" said Sue Healy, Director of Product Marketing.

Leadership Directories also announced today its partnership with Alacra, a leading provider of business information and workflow solutions. Leadership Directories content will be delivered through Alacra Connections, a networking solution for sales and marketing professionals.

About Leadership Directories, Inc.

Leadership Directories, Inc. (LDI) is a leading content provider, covering both the public and private sectors. Founded in 1970, LDI maintains a rich database of biographical and contact information on nearly a half-million leaders and executives from over 60,000 organizations. Our integrated solutions enable customers to quickly and cost effectively navigate the complexities of federal, state, and local governments; major corporations; nonprofits; and more. Customers include government affairs professionals, public relations firms, sales and marketing executives, attorneys, executive search consultants, and more. LDI content is available online, as data feeds and pre-selected lists, or in print. To learn more, visit <http://www.leadershipdirectories.com>.

###

Media Contact: Sue Healy
Director, Product Marketing

Leadership Directories, Inc.
212-627-4140
shealy@leadershipdirectories.com