

To whom it may concern:

Leadership Directories, Inc. (LDI) maintains a rich database of biographical and contact information on over 400,000 individuals from over 40,000 government, corporate, legal, media, and nonprofit organizations across the United States. LDI content is available online, as data feeds, as lists, on demand, in print, or as custom solutions.

For thirty-five years Leadership Directories has carefully researched, selected, placed in hierarchical format, and provided contact data for such individuals. All of this work is done by an in-house editorial staff. We do not acquire or publish personnel data compiled by any other organization, nor do we license any of the data from The Leadership Library® to any other publishers or data providers.

Leadership Directories, Inc. publishes fourteen Yellow Book directories. Leadership Directories also offers online resources such as The Leadership Library®, Leadership Networks®, and the Congressional Leadership Directory® Online. Prior to the publication of each quarterly or semiannual edition of our directories (or an update to our online products), we contact all organizations listed to verify and update all of the information in their listings. Suggestions and questions concerning additions, deletions, and changes may be raised either by our editor or by our regular contact at the organization. To the best of our knowledge, a service comparable to The Leadership Library® is not available from any other publisher.

On a daily basis, our editors are engaged in continuous research. Using a wide variety of resources, they seek leads for new or changed data, which is immediately verified at the source in the manner described above, and added to our Internet version. There are no exceptions to these procedures.
