The Nonprofit Sector

NEWS

By Jessica M. Zuleta
Editor, Nonprofit Sector Yellow Book

November 7, 2007

The Winter 2008 edition of the Nonprofit Sector Yellow Book profiles over 1,400 of the nation's leading nonprofit organizations. Published semiannually, the Nonprofit Sector Yellow Book covers the boards of trustees, officers, and administrators of the nation's leading foundations, universities, museums, performing arts groups and centers, medical institutions, library systems, preparatory schools, and charitable service organizations. The Winter 2008 edition also features 300 foundations that support organizations listed throughout the various sections. The Winter 2008 edition of the directory provides detailed contact and biographical information for over 22,000 board members and over 27,000 executives at these leading nonprofit organizations.

The Nonprofit Sector Yellow Book is unique in that it is the only directory that lists, in a single volume, organizations from the eight significant areas of the nonprofit sector. In areas such as education and museums, the Nonprofit Sector Yellow Book includes both government-sponsored and private institutions. There is often a fine line between them. For instance, many nonprofit institutions rely on both government support and private fundraising. But the private organizations tend to set the overall tone for the entire sector.

The Leadership Directories Pledge

Leadership Directories updates and publishes content depicting the nearly half million people who lead over 40,000 major government, business, professional, and nonprofit institutions in the United States. Every item of information in every listing has been verified at the source.

Nonprofit Sector Yellow Book on the Internet

The Nonprofit Sector Yellow Book is available over the Internet by annual subscription as part of The Leadership Library® on the Internet, where it is updated daily. Highlights of these daily changes are available on our website at www.leadershipdirectories.com.

Sections of the Nonprofit Sector Yellow Book

The Foundations section lists the leading 220 foundations. Total net assets are among the criteria used in selection of foundations. This section includes private, community, and corporate-sponsored foundations.

The Colleges and Universities section covers the leading 750 public and private educational institutions. General reputation, endowment, budget, size of faculty, and number of students are among the criteria used in the selection of colleges and universities. Professional schools and colleges are included at each educational institution. For each professional school and college listed we include the dean, heads of admissions, career services, and development, and the school's librarian.

The Museums section covers the leading 120 museums. Attendance figures are among the criteria used in selection of museums. This section includes art museums, natural history museums, children's museums, science centers, aquariums, and zoos.

The Performing Arts Groups and Centers section profiles the leading 70 performing arts groups including operas, symphony orchestras, and dance groups, as well as performing arts centers where these groups perform. Artistic reputation, geographic location, and audience figures are among the criteria used in the selection of performing arts groups and centers.

The Medical Institutions section lists the leading 80 teaching hospitals, medical centers, and health systems. General reputation, physician expertise, and size are among the criteria used in selection of medical institutions.

The Library Systems section covers the leading 80 public libraries and library systems. The total number of volumes held is one of the criteria used in the selection of library systems.

The Preparatory Schools section lists the leading 50 private elementary and secondary schools. Endowment figures are among the criteria used in the selection of preparatory schools.

The Charitable Service Organizations section covers the leading 30 charitable services. Total revenue is one of the criteria used in the selection of charitable service organizations.
